32ND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME: Puzzles are a kind of trap that we allow ourselves to walk into because we think we can find a way out. Crossword puzzles, Sudoku, word games, Rubik's cubes all invite us to match our wits against the creator of the puzzle. Sometimes, after spending an excessive amount of time in trying to find the solution, we will walk away, only to return a few hours later to perceive the puzzle with new insight and quickly overcome whatever impasse prevented us from solving the puzzle. Weekend Edition Sunday on National Public Radio always has a "Sunday Puzzle." Numerous times the guest participants will mention how they came to the answer through a moment of insight. In this weekend's Gospel, the Sadducees come forward with a puzzle for Jesus. It is a trap they try to lay for him, one which they themselves don't even acknowledge since they don't believe in a resurrection. They ask Jesus whose wife someone will be after the deaths of multiple husbands. It's a puzzle that begs for an answer, especially in a culture in which male relatives are responsible for the widow of a brother. Like any great puzzle solver, Jesus breaks apart their argument with his own burst of insight suggesting that they not limit their thinking to this world. We are created beings who live in a physical world. But we also have a spiritual dimension to our existence that transcends the limitations of our physicality. So often, our perceptions of the afterlife are limited because we only know the world in which we live. All the descriptions of life in eternity are analogous because we have no direct experience of what it is. As Jesus relates in the Gospel, the heavenly realm is completely different from this world. The categories of created reality do not apply. Instead we are risen as children of God. If we try to puzzle out who we are after we die, the answer Jesus would give us is that we are alive to God.

LETTER FROM ARCHBISHOP JOHN WESTER: As we near the finish line of this election cycle that ends on Tuesday, November 8th, it is understandable that emotions are running high. This is certainly true for those of us who care deeply about the sanctity of human life, particularly vulnerable human life in the womb. Yet these emotions do not give us license to espouse positions that do not embrace the full moral teaching of our Catholic tradition. Nor do they allow leaders in the Church to endorse or denounce a candidate because of his or her position on a given issue. I once again urge the Catholic faithful in the Archdiocese of Santa Fe to read, study and reflect on the USCCB document Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship www.faithfulcitizenship.org. While this document does not give an exhaustive treatment of Catholic moral teaching, it does give excellent advice to Catholic voters as they prepare to cast their ballots. I also invite you to read my articles on Faithful Citizenship on pages 4-5 in the August, September and October 2016 issues of People of God posted on our website at https://issuu.com/officialasf/docs/pog-oct16_web_1?e=2171720/39348226

One of the fundamental points that is made in Faithful Citizenship is that the "Church's leaders are to avoid endorsing or opposing candidates or telling people how to vote." Rather, "This is a decision to be made by each Catholic guided by a conscience formed by Catholic moral teaching." It is certainly true that no Catholic should ever intend an intrinsic evil. However, assuming that is not one's intention, there are many considerations that must be weighed in determining which candidate will ultimately do the most to promote the sanctity of human life and the common good. These considerations are complex, nuanced and contextual, demanding serious study in light of sound Catholic principles. It is our sacred duty as Catholics to form our consciences properly and to make decisions that take into account our religious and political beliefs, giving priority to the former. In any case, no one has the right to censure the conscience of another that has been formed with good will, prayer and Catholic teaching.

Any election is important, carrying with it countless consequences and ramifications. This year's election is no different. I urge all Catholics to vote this coming November. It is a privilege and a duty to vote, and something that our faith urges us to do as we seek to be faithful Catholics and responsible citizens, working actively to further the Kingdom of God on earth.

PRAYER FOR ELECTION DAY: O God, we acknowledge You today as Lord, Not only of individuals, but of nations and governments. We thank You for the privilege Of being able to organize ourselves politically And of knowing that political loyalty Does not have to mean disloyalty to You. We thank You for Your law, Which our Founding Fathers acknowledged And recognized as higher than any human law. We thank You for the opportunity that this election year puts before us, To exercise our solemn duty not only to vote, But to influence countless others to vote, And to vote correctly. Lord, we pray that Your people may be awakened. Let them realize that while politics is not their salvation, Their response to You requires that they be politically active. Awaken Your people to know that they are not called to be a sect fleeing the world But rather a community of faith renewing the world. Awaken them that the same hands lifted up to You in prayer Are the hands that pull the lever in the voting booth; That the same eyes that read Your Word Are the eyes that read the names on the ballot, And that they do not cease to be Christians When they enter the voting booth. Awaken Your people to a commitment to justice, To the sanctity of marriage and the family, To the dignity of each individual human life, And to the truth that human rights begin when Human Lives Begin, And not one moment later. Lord, we rejoice today That we are citizens of Your kingdom.
